

Preservation Virginia Annual Awards Categories for 2015/2016

Young Preservationist of the Year

Presented to a person or youth group, comprised of members twenty-five years of age or younger, who have made a notable contribution to preservation in the Commonwealth. This award not only recognizes excellence, but also the profound need to attract young people into Virginia's preservation movement if it is to continue to thrive.

Outstanding Preservation Project

The Gabriella Page Preservation Award

Recognizes an owner, architect, design firm, contractor or developer for a domestic, commercial or public sector project that best exemplifies the use of preservation standards and brings an outstanding building into appropriate contemporary use.

Outstanding Community Preservation

The Katherine Glaize Rockwood Community Preservation Award

Recognizes an individual or activity that has made a significant contribution to an historic area in Virginia. Examples would include an effort to save a critical structure, the formation of a local group, creation of a revolving fund, or exceptional efforts by a historic preservation commission or neighborhood association such as the establishment and maintenance of a communications network like a newsletter or website.

Outstanding Historic Preservation Research Effort

Recognizes any individual or entity that has made a significant contribution to the cause of historic preservation or archaeology in Virginia through research, interpretation, and/or education.
